APRIL 2019

Holy Week and Easter are at the very heart and centre of our faith as a Christian. The death and resurrection of Jesus Christ are the source of all of our hope and the rock on which the Church is founded. The Services that form the epicentre of Holy Week are ancient and convey the real sense of making a spiritual journey from the euphoric welcome of Palm Sunday to the table of the Lord to betrayal and denial, the desolation of the Garden, the brutality of sacrifice, the grief of death and the wonder of God's love and activity of Easter Day. I encourage you to join in the remaining days of Lent, Holy Week and Easter with your imagination open to renewal and fresh insight into what you encounter.

Please don't celebrate Easter without first walking the way of the Passion of Our Lord that gives real meaning to the life we lead in the Risen Lord and truly enables us to proclaim that, 'Christ has died, Christ is risen, Christ will come again!' If you are going away for this important time, then please do try to share the journey in a local church

This time with God speaks to us in the context of the world in which we live and work for God, including the pain of injustice, intolerance, suffering, despair and the consequence of human sinfulness. If we are to be agents of reconciliation, peace, hope, renewal and love, then we need to know how and why God has redeemed us and be able to witness to how God's love and power can heal and transform.

Every blessing

A Word from St Anne's

April is one of the best times of the year! Spring has definitely arrived. New life is bursting forth with all its greenness and vigour. The days are longer and the sun is warmer. All right, I know that we could still get snow, and we might get icy winds (especially in Over Haddon) but chances are we won't and at least we know that the best half of the year lies before us.

Because Easter is unusually late this year the first half of the month is still in Lent, with no flowers in church, giving it a sombre feel (as is right and proper) but it means that the profusion of Spring flowers on all the church windows will be all the more welcome when Easter Day dawns. At St Anne's we will also serve refreshments after the morning Communion Service on that happy day and invite everyone to stay behind to join us.

Now I know that this locally and seasonally joyful occasion is taking place against a wider national and global background of turbulent, worrying events. The chaos of Brexit continues to lurch forward, causing bitter divisions within our community and a painful split with our nearest neighbours...but at least it now looks as if this may not happen by Easter.....Then there is the burgeoning awareness of climate change and ecological meltdown that will affect our young - so thank goodness (no, that God!) they are rising up in protest and shaming us older generations who too often turn our faces away.

Easter could be/should be, a time of new beginnings.

High Peak Foodbank

The Methodist Church in Bakewell has for the last eight years taken donations weekly to the High Peak Foodbank at the Buxton United Reform Church. The Methodist Church, All Saints Church, the Co-op and Library are collection points for the Foodbank. At All Saints, donations are blessed at the Sunday morning service after the offertory.

People in the Bakewell area are able to benefit from the Foodbank. Clients can confidentially contact 07977 618232. They must be in financial hardship and taking steps to resolve their situation.

At the end of March Foodbanks will no longer receive Lottery Funding and we have been asked to make financial donations if possible. This can be done on line at www.highpeakfoodbank.co.uk (click on the "Donate Now" button) or can be collected in church as well as the usual items.

This month we are asked to provide tinned pies, tinned hotdogs, tinned meat, corned beef, rice, toiletries, coffee, UHT milk, packet puddings, tinned vegetables, tinned puddings. Plastic carrier bags are welcomed.

The period of Lent leading up to Easter is perhaps a good time to concentrate our efforts.

DATA PROTECTION

Just a reminder of the change in UK law which governs the processing of personal data.

All data held and processed by the PCC is governed by the General Data Protection Regulation and is retained and used solely in connection with the activities of All Saints and St Anne's. Personal data is strictly confidential and will be shared with other members of the church only for purposes connected with the church.

Consent must be obtained if personal data is to be shared with a third party outside the church. If you are asked for information concerning another church member, you should not give it, but you should take the name and contact details of the person making the request, then pass these details to the church member concerned, so that they can deal with it as they see fit.

We believe that many, but not all, church members have given their consent, in writing, for data to be held for the purposes of being contacted by post, 'phone or e mail. If you have not yet given such consent, please speak with one of the Churchwardens.

Further information can be found on our "Privacy Notice" on the website.

Newark Art Club

The first few weeks of the Newark Art Club has started well, a small group attend each week and works of art are starting to be created. A quiet, studious but friendly atmosphere aids the artwork - that and the cup of coffee or tea at half time! One attendee has completed the first piece of artwork in a lifetime, with permission, I have reproduced it to show that impressive works can be created with the minimum experience.

We meet every Monday afternoon at 1:30 to 3:30 in the Newark, Come on give it a try, see where the journey takes you!

THE RICHARD RODDIS SINGERS

The Richard Roddis Singers will be making a welcome return to All Saints on Thursday, 11

April, with a concert including SABAT MATER, with settings by Josef Rheinberger and Francis Poulenc and other seasonal music. The performance will begin at 6.30pm. Tickets are priced at £10 ( full time students £5)

Billy Graham told a story about getting lost while looking for the post office in a small town, where he was due to speak. Eventually a young boy gave him a ride on the back of his bike. Billy Graham thanked him and that evening to hear his sermon. "I will tell you how to get to Heaven," he told the boy. The boy looked at him derisively. "I don't think so. You don't even know the way to the post office".

Working as a Hospital Chaplaincy Volunteer

When Alyse Ross, one of our own members, moved to Bakewell five years ago with her husband Ian, she began to seek a niche relevant to her Christian faith. She had previous experience of voluntary work in hospital chaplaincy, but her current opportunity arose from a chance meeting with the lead Chaplain at the Chesterfield Royal Hospital at Calow. This led quickly to her volunteering to undertake training to join the chaplaincy team.

Alyse spends every Monday at Calow, based in the Stroke Unit, but ready to go anywhere in the hospital where she is needed. Her role includes spiritual support for patients, their families and also hospital staff. She is also one of five end-of-life companions through whom the hospital seeks to implement its policy that no patient should die alone. She has to be ready to respond to any need, always respecting the privacy and dignity of the patient and observing strict confidentiality. The patient's permission is always sought. Alyse can find herself sitting with a patient for anything from ten minutes to over an hour, in conversation or silence, prayer, reading and giving a blessing, but, above all, listening.

It was clear to all of us that Alyse has the many qualities necessary for this challenging work, which she undertakes in faith that it is God's work and only possible in the strength of the Holy Spirit.
